

COOKIES POLICY

1. The site does not automatically store any information, except for the information contained in cookies.
2. Cookies are computer data, especially text files that are stored in the terminal equipment of the Site User and are designed for use with the web pages of the Site. Cookies typically contain the name of the website from which they originate, their storage time on their terminal device and a unique serial number.
3. The entity placing cookies on the end device of the Site User and gaining access to them is the Operator of the Site
4. Cookies are used to:
 - a) adapt the web content to the preferences of the Site User and optimizing the use of web pages; in particular, these files allow you to identify the device of the Site User and properly display a web page in a manner tailored to their individual needs;
 - b) to create statistics that help us understand how our Users make use of web pages, while allows for an enhancement in their structure and content;
 - c) keep the Site User signed in (after logging in), which means that they will not be required to re-enter their login and password on every page of the Site.
5. Our Site uses two basic types of cookies: session cookies and persistent cookies. Session cookies are temporary files that are stored on the end device of a User until they log out, leave the website or disable the software (web browser). Persistent cookies are stored in the terminal device of a User for the time specified in the parameters of cookies or until they get deleted them by the User.
6. The following types of cookies are used throughout the Site:
 - a) "essential" cookies, enabling the use of the services available within the Site, for example authentication cookies used for services that require authentication on part of the Site;
 - b) The cookies used to ensure safety, such as those used to detect fraud in the authentication processes throughout the Site;
 - c) "Performance" cookies, allowing for the collection of information on the use of the web pages of the Site;
 - d) "functional" cookies enabling us to “remember” the settings chosen by the User and the customization of the user interface, e.g. in terms of the language selection or the location of the User, the font size, the appearance of the web page, etc .;
 - e) "advertising" cookies, enabling the delivery of advertising content that are more readily tailored to the User’s interests.
7. In many cases, the software used for browsing the web (browser) allows for the storage of cookies on your end device by default. At any given time, Users of the Site may make changes to the settings for cookies. These settings can be changed in particular in such a way, so as to block the automatic handling of cookies in your web browser settings or inform on their placement in the Site User’s end device. Detailed information on the possibilities and ways of handling cookies is available under software settings (web browser).

8. The operator of the Site indicates that the restriction of the use of cookies may affect some features available on the web pages of the Site.

9. The cookies placed on the end device of the Site User may be also used by the advertisers and partners co-operating with the Site.
